

The Oxford Experience

Breakthrough Thinking for Asia's Next Generation of Global Leaders

Sigma Mentoring's elite leadership and executive development programme, blending Oxford-style coaching with real-world business simulations for Asian-based companies.

About the Programme

The Oxford Experience transforms high-potential Asian executives into accountable, persuasive and action-oriented leaders.

Inspired by the Oxford tutorial method, it blends rigorous academic insight with 30 years of real-world business practice, creating a space for debate, decision and breakthrough learning.

Programme Structure

Each session starts with scene-setting insights, including the latest news, market data, and global trends. Teams then engage in real-world scenarios — managing crises, negotiating deals, and making executive-level decisions — followed by direct feedback and Oxford-style debriefs.

Participant Outcomes

- Sharpened analytical and decision-making skills.
- Enhanced presentation and communication confidence.
- Stronger negotiation and leadership presence.
- Empathy and ethical reasoning in business strategy.
- Measurable improvements in teamwork and accountability.
